

Your Resonance

Dedicated To My Mother
I Feel Your Resonance!

Hardi Kurda
2023

Context:

Your Resonance is based on Hardi's mother's health check notebook, which recorded data from January 1, 2019, to August 1, 2020. Using a pulse oximeter, she recorded her health check data every day.

This work is an interactive performance involving body resonances. Three types of numbers are derived from the Health check notebook, the ECG device, and the audience's health check number.

(1) The Found Score consists of eight pages that interpret one month of data from Hardi's mother's health check notebook. Each page presents one or a few numbers from 1-9 and 11, 22, 33, along with some keywords based on the NOL. Each page contains keywords, graphics, and numbers. The keywords help interpret the graphics, and the numbers indicate breathing patterns. The yellow colour represents stopping/holding the breath.

(2) The performer's body is connected to an ECG machine/sensor that sends the numbers to Ableton, allowing communication with the numbers from the health check notebook.

(3) Upon entering the venue, the audience will be asked to voluntarily undergo a health check in order to obtain their own numbers (Their Resonances). The results will guide the performer in organizing the score of eight pages from the Found Score.

The ECG device is from the previous project with the Title: Diagnosis Machine, an interactive sound installation commissioned by the Departement of Public Art in Vastra Gotaland/Gothenburg in Sweden 2015. Implemented codes by Carlo Cattano.
